

NOTE (b):

1. The following are the main features of the Indian Constitution:

- (i) It is a single document.
- (ii) It is a written constitution.
- (iii) It is a rigid constitution.
- (iv) It is a federal constitution.
- (v) It is a democratic constitution.
- (vi) It is a secular constitution.
- (vii) It is a parliamentary constitution.
- (viii) It is a constitutional monarchy.
- (ix) It is a unitary constitution.
- (x) It is a free constitution.
- (xi) It is a just constitution.
- (xii) It is a liberal constitution.
- (xiii) It is a progressive constitution.
- (xiv) It is a socialistic constitution.
- (xv) It is a welfare constitution.
- (xvi) It is a constitutional democracy.
- (xvii) It is a constitutional republic.
- (xviii) It is a constitutional monarchy.
- (xix) It is a constitutional democracy.
- (xx) It is a constitutional republic.

