

UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMME UNDER NEP 2020

The object of this paper is to discuss the theoretical concepts and principles of product design and its role in the product development process.

Course contents

Unit-I

Features of Indian Administrative System
The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers
The Legislature: Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, and President
The Judiciary: Supreme Court, High Courts, and District Courts

Unit-II

The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers
The Legislature: Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, and President
The Judiciary: Supreme Court, High Courts, and District Courts
The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers

Unit-III

The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers
The Legislature: Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, and President
The Judiciary: Supreme Court, High Courts, and District Courts
The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers

Unit-IV

The Executive: President, Prime Minister, and Council of Ministers
The Legislature: Lok Sabha, Rajya Sabha, and President
The Judiciary: Supreme Court, High Courts, and District Courts

Suggested Readings

Arora, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System
D'Sa, N. and De, S. Indian Administrative System

As, A. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Fed, B. L. and Fed, B. L. Indian Administrative System

Mishra, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Mishra, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pr, R. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System

Pyee, M. and Chandra, R. Indian Administrative System